University of Pittsburgh and UPMC
AGING INSTITUTE RESEARCH SEMINAR SERIES
Visiting Speakers, Spring 2021
Virtual Presentations | 2nd Thursday of the Month | Noon to 1:00 p.m.

JAN 14
Aging and Cancer: Rival Demons?
Judith Campisi, PhD
Professor, Buck Institute for Research on Aging

APR 8
Circadian clocks and the importance of timing in aging and longevity
Joseph Takahashi, PhD
Professor and Chair, Department of Neuroscience Investigator, Howard Hughes Medical Institute
Lydell B. Sands Distinguished Chair in Neuroscience
Peter O’Donnell Jr. Brain Institute University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center

FEB 18
Proteostasis Collapse in Aging and Neurodegenerative Diseases
Richard Morimoto, PhD
Bill and Gayle Cook Professor of Biology
Director, Rice Institute for Biomedical Research
Department of Molecular Biosciences
Northwestern University

MAY 13
Title
Jonathan David Brown, PhD
Assistant Professor of Medicine
Division of Cardiovascular Medicine
Vanderbilt University Medical Center

MAR 11
Convergent mechanisms of longevity
Adam Antebi, PhD
Director, Max Planck Institute for Biology of Aging, Cologne, Germany

JUN 10
Stress as a driver of aging
Alessandro Bartolomucci, PhD
Angel Keys Biomedical Scholar in Physiology and Metabolism
Director, Physiology Core, Department of Integrative Biology and Physiology, University of Minnesota

Scan QR Code to register or visit

AGING INSTITUTE
aging.pitt.edu

University of Pittsburgh Department of Medicine University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine UPMC LIFE CHANGING MEDICINE